St John's College, Record of Processing Activities - prospective students and applicants

	Controller
	Name and contact details		Data Protection Officer (if applicable)	Representative (if applicable)
Name	St John's College	Name	Principal Bursar	Name
Address	St Giles, Oxford, OX1 3JP	Address	St John's College, St Giles, Oxford, OX1 3JP	Address
Email	data.protection@sjc.ox.ac.uk	Email	data.protection@sjc.ox.ac.uk	Email
Telephone	01865 277321	Telephone	01865 277321	Telephone

Category of personal data	Source of the data	Why we process it	How long we keep this data	Our lawful basis for processing	Details relating to lawful basis (where applicable)	Special category grounds		Criminal conviction/ criminal allegation grounds	Criminal conviction/criminal allegation grounds (further information)	Category of recipients	Name of third countries or international organisations that personal data are transferred to
Applications for and decisions about financial support, for example scholarships, bursaries and hardship funds. This includes communications that we send and receive to third parties that provide financial support.	We obtain this data from you; We generate this data about you; We may receive decisions from third parties that provide financial support.	In order to make decisions about financial support and to ensure that the College is encouraging and supportin participation by talented people from all backgrounds.	g Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after th end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled.	enable prospective students to fund their studies, except where
Records of open days: these include attendees names and contact details, records of attendance at subject meetings and any accommodation bookings we make (and if you book accommodation, details of who you would like us to contact in case of emergency).	from you We generate this data about you	To support the administration of open day events	For six months after the open day.		The College and prospective students have a legitimate interest in arranging and attending open days to share and learn about College life before deciding whether to apply.					NA	N/A
Information you provide to us or the University of Oxford during the application process, including with your UCAS and graduate application forms consisting of your name, intended course, preferred Colleges, contact details, gender identity, education and employment history, predicted grades, language proficiency, personal statement, references and any research proposal or written work that you submit during the application process.	from the University of Oxford	To make admission decisions.	Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after th end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled.	in order to take steps e at your request prior to entering a contract Processing is necessary	The College has a legitimate interest in administering applications and deciding who should be offered places.					NA	N/A
Records of our admissions decisions, including decision letters that we send to applicants, notes of your interview performance, feedback we provide you on your application, records of the offers we make, records of whether you accept the offer, and where you do, records of whether you meet the conditions of the offer and records of whether you enrol at the College. We also receive details of equivalent decisions by the University department that you apply to.	We generate this data about you	To make admissions decisions and inform you of the outcome.	Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after th end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled.	in order to take steps e at your request prior to entering a contract Processing is necessary						N/A	N/A
Sensitive data that you provide during the application process, consisting of information about your ethnicity, disabilities, special needs, dietary requirements (whether for health or religious reasons), and records of any criminal convictions that you inform us about. Records of our decisions taking this information into account.	We obtain this data from the University of Oxford We obtain this data from you	We process this data in order to consider whether to make reasonable adjustments (in the case of information about your disability and/or health), to implement them and for equality monitoring purposes. In the case of criminal convictions, the College and University will use this data to consider and make decisions about whether any conviction poses an unacceptable risk in the collegiate university environment.	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after th	in order to take steps e at your request prior to entering a contract Processing is necessary	The College has a legitimate interest in assessing whether any individual poses an unacceptable safety risk.	Substantial public interest under the UK Data Protection Act 2018	Where the College processes special category data for these purposes, the processing is necessary for the prevention of a breach of its obligations under the Equality Act 2010. The processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public interest, namely that the College must comply with its statutory obligations concerning equality and to make reasonable adjustments. The processing must be carried out without consent so as not to prejudice those purposes.	The processing meets a condition in Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Data Protection Act 2018	convictions/allegations data for these purposes,	N/A N/A	N/A N/A

6 Your fee status (e.g. home or international) and We obtain this data	In order to determine the fees you are required to pay and to confirm that you will be able to meet the	Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently.		egislation determines to an extent the level of associated information about your country of from you	requirement to pay fees.		in order to take steps	ees you are required to pay, based on your residence, the amount of your fees and funding We obtain this data		Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the		country of residence.
information including your financial declaration, from third parties (e.g		end of the application cycle.	entering a contract any supporting information you provide about parents).
funding (e.g. loans, grants, sponsorship and/or		Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12	Processing is necessary self-funding resources, including copies of		months after the last date when you could have evidence you submit) and decisions that we		enrolled.	legal obligation make in light of that information.
The evidence submitted by you or on your behalf may include financial information about those assisting you financially, for example parents' bank statements.
We may also share this data with the University.
							Oxford University	N/A
7 Dro opplication communications with Mic obtain this data	To provide subvice that you may have about studying at the College	Cusses ful applicants who enrol: Domononthu	Desserving is assessed.	The College has a lasitimate interest in ressiving			Oxford University	N/A
7 Pre-application communications with We obtain this data prospective students. from you	To answer queries that you may have about studying at the College.	Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently.		The College has a legitimate interest in receiving prospective students. from you We generate this data		Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the		and responding to a range of queries from prospective students.
about you		end of the application cycle.	entering a contract
		Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12	Processing is necessary months after the last date when you could have months after the last date when you could have enrolled.
		en oleu.	or someone else's legitimate interests,
			legitimate interests, except where overridden by your
			data protection rights
			and freedoms
								N/A
							N/A
Records about whether to invite applicants for We obtain this data	We process this data to decide who to invite for interview.	Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently.	Processing is necessary	The College has a legitimate interest in using			N/A	N/A
Records about whether to invite applicants for We obtain this data interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of	We process this data to decide who to invite for interview.	Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently.		The College has a legitimate interest in using			N/A	N/A interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of			for the purposes of our	appropriate data about academic performance,			N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the	for the purposes of our a or someone else's	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic	r		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the		for the purposes of our a or someone else's legitimate interests,	appropriate data about academic performance,	r		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written about you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to-	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle.	for the purposes of our a or someone else's legitimate interests, except where	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for	r		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written work that we have requested. We will also hold We also obtain this	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12	for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for	r		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written about you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to-	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for	r		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written work that we have requested. We will also hold We also obtain this copies of the tests and written work that you data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to-	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12	for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for	,		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written work that we have requested. We will also hold We also obtain this copies of the tests and written work that you data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to-	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for	r		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written work that we have requested. We will also hold We also obtain this copies of the tests and written work that you data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to-	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for	,		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written work that we have requested. We will also hold We also obtain this copies of the tests and written work that you data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to-	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for	, ,		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written work that we have requested. We will also hold We also obtain this copies of the tests and written work that you data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to-	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for	r		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written work that we have requested. We will also hold We also obtain this copies of the tests and written work that you data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to-	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for	,		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written work that we have requested. We will also hold We also obtain this copies of the tests and written work that you data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to-	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for	, ,		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written work that we have requested. We will also hold We also obtain this copies of the tests and written work that you data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to-	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for	r		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written work that we have requested. We will also hold We also obtain this copies of the tests and written work that you data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to-	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for	, ,		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written work that we have requested. We will also hold We also obtain this copies of the tests and written work that you data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to-	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for	, ,		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written work that we have requested. We will also hold We also obtain this copies of the tests and written work that you data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to-	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written work that we have requested. We will also hold We also obtain this copies of the tests and written work that you data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to-	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for	r		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual from the University of information (relating to information about your Oxford school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written work that we have requested. We will also hold We also obtain this copies of the tests and written work that you data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to-	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for	Explicit consent		N/A	N/A
interview, including consideration of contextual information (relating to information about your school performance, postcode and care background),test scores and marks for written work that we have requested. We will also hold copies of the tests and written work that you submit.	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled.	for the purposes of our or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications We obtain this data before they arrive, and making visa extensions	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled.	for the purposes of our a e or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications before they arrive, and making visa explosions when they are not need to be applications when they are not the other to be applications when they are not the tests and written work that you work that you submit. We generate this data applications we have applications when they are applications when they are applications when they are not the tests and written work that you we have applications when they are not the tests applications we have applications when they are not the tests applications we have	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled. Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the	for the purposes of our a e or someone else's legitimate interests, except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they arrive. This involves us We obtain this data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled.	for the purposes of our a or someone else's except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications they are on the ourse. This involves us taking copies of they arrive, and making visa work that is able to be accented to the tests and written work that you submit. We generate this data about you 9 We may assist students making visa applications before they arrive, and making visa extensions taking copies of the assore that making visa with the We obtain this data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled. Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle.	for the purposes of our e or someone else's except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of the yarry end making visa seturns when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of the sets and written work that you We generate this data about you 9 We may assist students making visa applications when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of the you We generate this data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled. Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the	for the purposes of our e or someone else's except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and witk the work that you We generate this data from you 9 We may assist students making visa applications when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visas, which we store electronically and share with the University so that it has records of students' entitlement to study. We also provide the We obtain this data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled. Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the applicants: for 12 months after the successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our e or someone else's except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visas, which we store electronically and share with the University with students' neutriement to study. We also provide the University with students' neutriement and the students' neutriement to study. We also provide the University with students' neutriement and the students' neutr	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled. Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12	for the purposes of our e or someone else's except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and witk the work that you We generate this data from you 9 We may assist students making visa applications when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visas, which we store electronically and share with the University so that it has records of students' entitlement to study. We also provide the We obtain this data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled. Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the applicants: for 12 months after the successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our e or someone else's except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visas, which we store electronically and share with the University y soft hat it has records of students' entitlement to study. We also provide the University with students' name, date of birth, passport number, course, fees paid & due for it to share this information with the Home We obtain this data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled. Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the applicants: for 12 months after the successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our e or someone else's except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visa, which we store electronically and share with the University with student's making visa extensions when they are not the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visa, which we store electronically and share with the University this tudent's making visa extensions are this information as part of its We obtain this data from you 9 We may assist students making visa applications before they arrive, and making visa extensions when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visas, which we store electronically and share with the University with students' anne, date of bith, passport number, course, fees paid & due for it to share this information with the Home Office/UK Visas and Immigration as part of its We obtain this data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled. Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the applicants: for 12 months after the successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our e or someone else's except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visas, which we store electronically and share with the University y soft hat it has records of students' entitlement to study. We also provide the University with students' name, date of birth, passport number, course, fees paid & due for it to share this information with the Home We obtain this data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled. Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the applicants: for 12 months after the successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our e or someone else's except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visa, which we store electronically and share with the University with student's making visa extensions when they are not the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visa, which we store electronically and share with the University this tudent's making visa extensions are this information as part of its We obtain this data from you 9 We may assist students making visa applications before they arrive, and making visa extensions when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visas, which we store electronically and share with the University with students' anne, date of bith, passport number, course, fees paid & due for it to share this information with the Home Office/UK Visas and Immigration as part of its We obtain this data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled. Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the applicants: for 12 months after the successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our e or someone else's except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visa, which we store electronically and share with the University with student's making visa extensions when they are not the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visa, which we store electronically and share with the University this tudent's making visa extensions are this information as part of its We obtain this data from you 9 We may assist students making visa applications before they arrive, and making visa extensions when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visas, which we store electronically and share with the University with students' anne, date of bith, passport number, course, fees paid & due for it to share this information with the Home Office/UK Visas and Immigration as part of its We obtain this data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled. Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the applicants: for 12 months after the successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our e or someone else's except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visa, which we store electronically and share with the University with student's making visa extensions when they are not the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visa, which we store electronically and share with the University this tudent's making visa extensions are this information as part of its We obtain this data from you 9 We may assist students making visa applications before they arrive, and making visa extensions when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visas, which we store electronically and share with the University with students' anne, date of bith, passport number, course, fees paid & due for it to share this information with the Home Office/UK Visas and Immigration as part of its We obtain this data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled. Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the applicants: for 12 months after the successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our e or someone else's except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visa, which we store electronically and share with the University with student's making visa extensions when they are not the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visa, which we store electronically and share with the University this tudent's making visa extensions are this information as part of its We obtain this data from you 9 We may assist students making visa applications before they arrive, and making visa extensions when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visas, which we store electronically and share with the University with students' anne, date of bith, passport number, course, fees paid & due for it to share this information with the Home Office/UK Visas and Immigration as part of its We obtain this data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled. Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the applicants: for 12 months after the successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our e or someone else's except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visa, which we store electronically and share with the University with student's making visa extensions when they are not the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visa, which we store electronically and share with the University this tudent's making visa extensions are this information as part of its We obtain this data from you 9 We may assist students making visa applications before they arrive, and making visa extensions when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visas, which we store electronically and share with the University with students' anne, date of bith, passport number, course, fees paid & due for it to share this information with the Home Office/UK Visas and Immigration as part of its We obtain this data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled. Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the applicants: for 12 months after the successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our e or someone else's except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visa, which we store electronically and share with the University with student's making visa extensions when they are not the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visa, which we store electronically and share with the University this tudent's making visa extensions are this information as part of its We obtain this data from you 9 We may assist students making visa applications before they arrive, and making visa extensions when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visas, which we store electronically and share with the University with students' anne, date of bith, passport number, course, fees paid & due for it to share this information with the Home Office/UK Visas and Immigration as part of its We obtain this data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled. Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the applicants: for 12 months after the successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our e or someone else's except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A	N/A
9 We may assist students making visa applications when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they arrive, and making visa extensions when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visa, which we store electronically and share with the University with student's making visa extensions when they are not the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visa, which we store electronically and share with the University this tudent's making visa extensions are this information as part of its We obtain this data from you 9 We may assist students making visa applications before they arrive, and making visa extensions when they are on the course. This involves us taking copies of passports and visas, which we store electronically and share with the University with students' anne, date of bith, passport number, course, fees paid & due for it to share this information with the Home Office/UK Visas and Immigration as part of its We obtain this data from you	The role of contextual admissions data is explained more fully on the University's website, but is taken into account when deciding whether to invite applicants for interview in addition to candidates who have met the usual departmental admissions criteria: https://www.ox.ac.uk/admissions/undergraduate/applying-to- oxford/decisions/contextual-data?wssl=1	Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the application cycle. Successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have enrolled. Successful applicants who enrol: Permanently. Unsuccessful applicants: for 12 months after the end of the applicants: for 12 months after the successful applicants who do not enrol: 12 months after the last date when you could have	for the purposes of our e or someone else's except where overridden by your data protection rights and freedoms.	appropriate data about academic performance, and to take account of the context of academic achievement in order to decide who to invite for			N/A N/A	N/A